Reasons Why Emanuel L. Philipp Should be Renominated on Sept. 5

In 1914 he stood for a more efficient state government, for lower taxes, for the abolishing of useless boards and commissions, for more responsibility upon constitutional officers, and an administration of the affairs of the state in the interest of the taxpayers and under their control, and he stands upon the same platform today.

Authorized and paid for by S. C. Burnham, Republican candidate for County Treasurer, Rate 40c per inch.

Mr. Burnham

—has been a resident of Rock county since 1850. His home for the first two years being a log house in the town of Fulton. His first school attendance was in a little log school house in the same town. In 1882 he came with his parents to the then village of Janesville and has been a resident ever since.

He attended the city schools and was a member of the class which graduated from the high school in June, 1884, but in company with all the boys of the class left the school in April, volunteering as a soldier in the Civil war, and was a member of Company A, 40th Regiment, Wisconsin Volunteers. The regiment was sent to Memphis and did service in Tennessee and Mississippi.

Mr. Burnham has always taken an active part in city affairs, representing his ward several times in the Common Council and the Board of Education, of which latter body he has been Clerk for the past twenty years. In every position he has been regarded as a competent and faithful official. He has never before asked any office from the county, and he feels that if a residence of more than half a century, fidelity in every public position, service to his country as a soldier, counts for anything his solicitation of support is worthy of consideration. Upon his record he is willing to stand, and asks the voters of the county for their endorsement for County Treasurer at the Primary Election, September 5th, feeling that the best promise he can make for the future is his past record.

COUNTY TEMPERANCE CONVENTION CLOSES TWO DAYS' SESSION

Addresses by Mrs. Edith Smith Davis and the Rev. T. C. Thorson Feature W. C. T. U. Gathering.

Good music, inspiring addresses and interesting reports were some of the features which contributed to the success of the two days' convention of the Rock County W. C. T. U. which concluded on Thursday. The members of the local union proved themselves capable hostesses throughout the event, as all details were handled in a careful and efficient manner. The auditorium of the Cargill Methodist church was tastefully decorated with flowers, posters and banners of various kinds showing the evils of liquor traffic. A motto in white and gold, "For God and Home and Every Land," was displayed in a prominent position, and a table of literature was also in evidence presided over by Miss Vera Welsh, and the delegates were invited to help themselves, to whatever they chose of the publications. The presiding officer of the convention was Mrs. L. L. Dickinson of Edgerton, and Mrs. G. M. H. Dresser of Clinton was the secretary. There were nine unions represented as follows: Janesville, Beloit, Evansville, Milton, Milton Junction, Clinton, Harmony, Edgerton and Lima Center, with twenty-eight delegates, many visitors in attendance.

Mrs. Edith Smith Davis, who gave the address on Wednesday evening, was born in Rock county and always feels as though returning home when coming to this section to speak. Her subject was "Conservation Through Truth" and her line of thought was that only through the knowledge of the evils of intemperance as taught in the schools of the country could the lives and health of the children of this nation be preserved.

On Thursday forenoon the program was mainly devoted to a business meeting when the president and secretary were re-elected for another year. Mrs. A. W. Horwood was elected treasurer; Miss Sara Greenwood, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Edgerton and Mrs. Corp. appointed to serve as a committee for memorial purposes. A practice lesson in parliamentary law, led by Mrs. Kate Richardson, and a paper on "The Year's Work in the Temperance World," by Miss Alice Kelly, also were given attention.

Mrs. Rice of Harmony, led in the devotional exercises at the opening of the afternoon session and the Rev. Thorson gave a stirring address on "Prohibition and Its Relation to Good Government." He dwelt particularly on the fact which wise legislation had played in bringing about better conditions of morality and of right living. It was voted that a report on immoral shows, written by Mrs. Copp, be printed and sent to each of the unions. The audience greatly enjoyed the music furnished by the Junior quartet in their selection, "The Liquor Traffic Must Go." The youthful members were Walton Lane, Robert Jacobs, Anna Bearmore and Helen Yates.

A spirited cantata, given by about forty young people, was a very marked success, being pretty and with many tuneful melodies. It was patriotic in character opening with "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean" and closing with "America" and having the title "The Liquor Traffic Must Go." The cast of characters is as follows:

Miss Columbia—Gwendolyn Jacobs. Uncle Sam—Stanley Horwood. Gov. of Kansas—Carroll Whaley. The Judge—Robert Lane.

There was a group of five young ladies who took the part of suffragists and about thirty children and young people who sang in the choruses.

Reports from various committees was given place toward the close of the session, Mrs. West of Milton reading the report of the committee on resolutions. Mention was made of the state convention to be held September 22-26 at Madison. The meeting closed with the singing of the hymn "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," led by Mrs. M. Smith of Edgerton at the piano and a prayer by the secretary, Mrs. Dresser. The meeting place of the next convention will be announced later.

AVALON

Avalon, Sept. 1.—Sneak thieves visited Mrs. B. P. Irish's henroosts and helped themselves to about 150 chickens. Farmers should keep a watchdog in their yard. The Bunker and Voltz families spent Sunday at Lake Koshkonong. Dr. and Mrs. F. C. Bowker and family returned to their home in Morris, Ill. Thursday, after two weeks spent with relatives here and at Beloit.

Vera Dodge visited friends in Beloit last week and took in the air. The Misses Burns of Beloit are guests of their aunt, Mrs. W. Toost. Mrs. A. Rokenbrodt and son are visiting her brother, Fred Holstein, and family at Fort Atkinson. The paint shop owned by Charles Jellyman was burned to the ground last night about nine o'clock. The loss is not known, as Mr. Jellyman had left on the 8:30 train. He had many valuable souvenirs gathered in foreign countries where he has traveled, and all were destroyed.

THE OUT DOORS.

School starts on Tuesday next for the long fall term until the Christmas holidays. True, there is Thanksgiving week interruption, but that hardly counts after the past summer. It is now a time in the school year when the students first find a new superintendent of schools, next there are some new teachers and for the average student there is a new grade and new studies to be taken up and new work to be done.

It will mean concentration of the thoughts and energies of the pupils to master the new work given them to study from and there is nothing like a good, clear mind, a wholesome body to enforce the brain to its greatest mental activity. All the while these pupils are in the school room the great outdoors entices them. The wonders of nature still exist and are as essential to life as before.

The autumn months pass on too quickly and winter closes down on us precluding out of doors life and enjoyment except for the sturdy. The lure of the woods and fields in autumn is as great as in the summer and the call is hard not to heed. It builds up the muscles, trains the eye and teaches of the wonders of the great outdoors being placed on this globe for the benefit of mankind.

School comes first, but find time to permit the students to study in the great book of nature as well. Teach them to enjoy the forest and the streams, let them learn from the open book that Nature furnishes us all. Boys and girls can be benefited by getting close to nature as long as permissible and lessons are learned that are not found in any bound volumes.

Keep the boys and girls out of doors as much as possible when they are not in school and weather permits. Give them recreation in the great open air that cures evils that can be found in the close and stuffy rooms where the best part of their days are spent. Teach them nature as well as books and they will have a healthier place of students ready to meet the work of the school room with redoubled energy.

REMEMBER TO VOTE.

Apathy on the part of the citizen of the management of state or national affairs is failing to vote for good men to fill the offices caused by the primaries, causes conditions to the primaries that should be remedied. Tuesday next is primary day. It is safe to say that every vote for candidates whose candidacies are objectionable for various reasons, will be on hand to cast their ballot, while many of the silk stocking vote will forget entirely to go to the polls.

It is primary day or too busy with auto trips to do the duty as citizens. It is not class against mass, but right and justice against wrong. The candidate on the republican ticket for the nomination for United States Senator is truly republican and truly American. His opponent has long paraded under the republican banner and voted the democratic laws in effect down at Washington. Vote for Malcolm G. Jeffries for United States Senator.

Emmanuel L. Phillips was elected as the conservative republican governor two years ago to reduce taxation. He has accomplished a part of his work and despite the bitter attacks of the "tax-eaters," the senior United States Senator, democratic officeholders and ultra progressives, he should be re-nominated on Tuesday next. Vote for him.

Associated with Mr. Phillips are such men as Marshall Cousins, now in the service of the government on the Mexican border, candidate for lieutenant governor, George L. Harrington of Elkhorn, the farmer legislator, who is a candidate for secretary of state, Charles Oshkosh, candidate for attorney general, well qualified for the office by previous experience. Then there is Johnson of Madison, candidate for state treasurer. Johnson has served the state well in this capacity and should be returned without question. Vote for all of them.

Go Down in the Legislative field. Vote for L. E. Cunningham of Beloit, candidate for state senator. Vote for L. C. Whittet of Edgemoor, candidate for the assembly from the first district of Rock county. Vote for Albert W. Winegar of Beloit, candidate in the 2d district. Vote for all of them.

play and good government as a protest against corrupt political methods used by his opponents.

But above all things go to the polls and vote. If you are a republican and mean to elect a republican president, send a republican down to help him in the senate. If you are going to vote for Phillip send members of the legislature who will work in harmony with him. But vote!

POLITICAL COMMITTEES.

The man who criticizes the corruption of our times the most freely is rarely the same one who is ever willing to serve on a political committee. It is much easier to sit on your front porch and find fault with graft and inefficiency. If he served on a committee he might have to strain his patriotism by attending a few meetings.

Yet the work of political committees as to go on. Plans of campaigns have to be mapped out. Rallies have to be held and advertising written and paid for. The voters have to be canvassed to get out a full poll. They have to be checked off as they vote, that the lagards may be rounded up.

There are many abuses in the work of political committees. Few men are willing to serve on them from pure zeal for community good. Usually they are looking for appointments or nominations. In return for work done, they expect favors from those who gain the offices. This frequently involves the appointment of unfit men.

Yet the political committee performs its indispensable service. It is a least a program attractive to a certain standard of decency go on the lists to be balloted for. Otherwise the party will be beaten every time. If there were no political committees, nominations would be made haphazard. It would be as well to snap up a cent to see who should go on the ticket.

Better politics can not be secured without good work being done. Realism is never accomplished by sitting at one's fireside and finding fault. Where improvement is made, it is because someone has gone to work. People who want better government should be willing to serve on political committees.

Only by giving of their own time and interest can they command any support for their ideas.

CIVIC DUTY.

The most impressive side of our primary and election returns is the number of men who do not take the trouble to vote. We applaud the forefathers who offered their lives in their country's service. Yet the thing they were fighting for was merely the power of casting a real ballot. Many of us today do not consider that worth the bother of a half mile walk.

It needs to be said over and over again, that attendance at primaries is as important as voting at elections. The suits at elections are often a foregone conclusion. The primaries are a melting pot where the politicians are trying out the temper of the people. A vote there counts high.

Many men will not go near primary elections or caucuses because they consider them manipulated by politicians. When they are thus manipulated, it is merely because the bulk of the voters stay away. If primaries were as well attended everywhere as elections, little would be heard about rings and machines.

Having completed the annual task of scraping the dust and mud from the gutters into the center of the highway, from which it will be ground or washed out in a few weeks, the road-makers in the country districts are now all ready for another year's appropriation.

The cause of the munitions explosion in New York harbor is not yet ascertained, but no doubt there are many trustful people who believe it was spontaneous combustion or matches gnawed by mice.

No particular regret is expressed by the summer girls along the Atlantic coast on account of the stark peril as it gives them one more excellent excuse for sitting on the sand and not wetting their bathing suits.

The notification of presidential candidates that they have been nominated takes place later and later every year, and in the case of Mr. Wilson it would make no particular difference if they had forgotten it altogether.

The fact that a lady can wear a low cut ball gown on the street does not prove that she will allow her husband to come to the table on a hot day without a starched two-inch standing collar.

It is claimed that wooden soled shoes will have to be used owing to the scarcity of leather, but they can't make any more noise than the boys create now as they march into the house.

So far none of the cannibals of Africa have protested against the cruelties of the European war, but it would seem as though their moral sense must be thoroughly shocked by this time.

It is believed that the commission which is to control the Mexican border will at least succeed in passing some strong resolutions the next time American citizens are killed.

Both candidates for president favor woman suffrage, after a conscientious and logical study of the table of electoral votes cast by the suffrage states.

More airship raids reported from Europe, but the number of women and babies killed does not seem to have been very satisfactory.

The injury to the crops by unfavorable weather causes less popular distress than the interruption of the ball games.

HOWARD AND JIMMY

AGAIN IN TROUBLE;

TAKE HORSE AND RIG

Youngsters Who a Week Ago Gave Police Trouble, Again Take a Little Ride—Robbed Cars.

Harold Morton who is visiting at the home of Mrs. Della Dulin, 48 North Chatham street, from Chicago, went on a rampage again this week. With him was his friend of the same name, Jimmy Stocks, aged nine. Howard and Jimmy took Arthur Metzinger's gray horse and rig a week ago and started "west" with a thirty-eight caliber Colt revolver taken from the express office at the Northwestern depot, matches and cigarettes stolen from the wholesale grocery, together with a loaf of bread and about nineteen ears of sweet corn.

This time it is alleged they broke into a freight car at the Northwestern freight depot and stocked their pockets with candy, while from a fruit cart they filled their arms with other delicacies. Down on Dodge street they commandeered the horse and rig belonging to Charles Teber, a farmer.

Then they started out. A telephone call from a delivery system wagon driver inquiring if the system had had a gray horse reported stolen brought the department's notice, that little Howard, "the boy bandit," as they term him, was on another rampage. The delivery boy knew the lad and informed the police of his driving the rig across the Five Points.

The police patrol was started on the trail. Howard and his companion were located in the Fifth ward. When he saw the wagon behind him he grabbed the whip and lashed up the horse to a furious pace. Man's indignity more than coped with the dumb beast and after a short chase the wagon was overtaken. Young Morton had jumped out at first sight of the patrol and had run and hid in the bushes. When the police came back in search of him he was discovered in a secure enough place, but a "measley" yellow cur disclosed his hiding. The dog would not just lie still and despite the lad's commands continued to snuffle around until the officers were attracted.

Jimmy's father, James S. Stocks, of West Bluff street, plans to send him to his grandfather's. Mrs. Dulin has wired Harold's folks to come and get him.

TESTIMONY CLOSED IN THE RIVER CASE; FILE BRIEFS LATER

Deposition of M. G. Jeffris Will be Taken Next Thursday.—Nearly One Hundred Exhibits in Action.

Testimony was completed this morning in the action brought by the state of Wisconsin against George G. Sutherland for the abatement of a dam in Rock river, which has been on trial before Judge C. A. Fowler in the circuit court for the past three days, with the exception of that to be offered by M. G. Jeffris, whose deposition will be taken next Thursday morning. Witnesses examined for the defense included Mr. Sutherland, E. F. Carpenter, J. C. Conrad, J. E. Hammarlund, E. H. Koon, City Engineer, C. V. Kerch, and the deposition of C. B. Salmon of Beloit.

With the testimony closed, it was stipulated that briefs shall be filed with Judge Fowler by Sept. 20, and the defendant's brief ten days later.

The testimony taken in the case was exhaustive with careful consideration given to measurements, surveys and plans of the Rock river valley with reference to past and possible future flood conditions and the probable relation of such conditions to the present obstructions located in Rock river, more especially the Sutherland block, located on the southern side adjacent to the west end of the street bridge. A total of 98 exhibits, maps, photographs and plans were introduced in evidence. The photographs form a collection showing river conditions for a period of over fifty years.

The most important testimony introduced by the state, was that of a quartet of prominent hydraulic engineers, D. W. Mead of Madison, John W. Alvord of Chicago, and Arthur E. Morgan of Dayton, O., who composed the board of consulting engineers of the state.

According to the testimony of these men, if the amount of rainfall which occurred in the Pecatonica river valley in 1915 fell in the Rock river valley, near its headwaters, the conditions existing at Janesville would be aggravated two times and possibly three times that which was experienced during the flood of 1881. This would be due, the engineers testified, to the fact that the present obstructions in the river would prevent a free and easy escape of the flood water.

At the time of the flood of 1881, the old building built in Rock river was the Myers building, which was destroyed by fire in 1915. The present building, which was destroyed by fire in 1915, was the Myers building, which was destroyed by fire in 1915.

MUST GO TO WAUPUN TO SERVE OLD TERM
Court's Leniency in Case of Frank Sager Fruitless—in Toile After Cashing Bad Check.

Frank Sager, paroled state board of control charge, stands in a fair way to serve the year's sentence in Waupun for passing a bad check, as he was passed on several months ago by Judge Maxfield after Sager pleaded guilty to a second offense drunkenness charge.

Sager has been arrested by the police for passing bad checks. In some manner he secured a book from one of the local banks and in addition a dollar from one of the officials after putting up a hard luck story. He went to the Birmingham and Hixon yards and ordered two tons of coal, getting two dollars and fifty cents in return for the twenty dollar check he tendered.

He next went to the Reliable Drug company and offered to pay H. E. Ranous a long standing bill. Mr. Ranous held against him. He offered by check, but Mr. Ranous was suspicious and telephoned the bank where the information was given out that Sager's name was not on their books.

He was picked up by the police. A board of control agent was to arrive today to take him to Waupun.

AUTHORITIES MAY STOP MRS. SANGER'S BIRTH CONTROL CLINIC FOR MOTHERS
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]
New York, Sept. 1.—If the police do not stop her, Mrs. Margaret Sanger will open a clinic in Brooklyn today to teach birth control to mothers.

Mrs. Sanger was indicted here a few months ago by United States Judge S. C. Elmer for passing the mails in her birth control magazine, "The Woman Rebel." But she and her New York society men and women friends caused so many scenes that the prosecution was dropped.

Mrs. Sanger also was arrested in Portland, Oregon, a short time ago when she went there to preach birth control.

"Eastern women practice it, but won't advocate birth control, public life," said Mrs. Sanger today, "but western women practice and publicly advocate it too. Five hundred Los Angeles women let me use their names on my tour."

Noting that the authorities' action against her as "very silly," she believes a woman should not be compelled to bear children if she cannot rear and educate them properly.

Mrs. Sanger, who wrangled so with the University of Pennsylvania over free speech, will add her protest in the city for week end visit with relatives. Mrs. Scofield is a former resident of Janesville.

Messrs. Thornton Reid, John Wixom, Esq., and Ransom and Edward Parker, Esq., returned to Madison today to attend the fair.

W. P. Moseley of Paris, Ill., is spending a few days in this city with friends.

A. Osborn of Delavan is a business caller in town today.

A. N. Goff is spending the week in Janesville, from Burlington, Wis.

Miss Gertrude Heringway of Hancock is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gardner of Prospect avenue.

Mrs. Horace McElroy of Chicago, who has been visiting friends in Janesville for the past week, returned home.

CITY WATER PLANT HAS BIG COAL SUPPLY

Enough Fuel in Storage Bins to Keep Pumping Station in Operation For Sixty Days.

"No need to be afraid that the city's water supply will be shut off in case of railroad strike," said Commissioner Roy M. Cummings this morning. "The city has a supply of coal on hand to keep the plant in operation for at least sixty days and even though the strike order becomes effective Monday it is a conceded fact that the trouble will not last very long, so consumers need not worry."

For the past several weeks the city has been receiving extra cars of coal at regular intervals for just such a condition of shipping affairs. We decided some time ago that it would be advisable to have a good supply on hand to offset any serious effects of a general tie-up of railroad facilities.

"With the supply we have now it will be an easy matter to keep Janesville's water mains carrying the daily load over the period of the strike, if it should occur."

WOMAN'S PAGE

Training a Husband

Morris Southy Frets and Stews and

"Now we don't want to be late this morning, as long as these people have been kind enough to invite us to join their club," Morris Southy took out his watch. "It is now a quarter of seven."

Marian did not answer. She had made all possible preparations before supper so that she might not keep her husband waiting. She began to pick up the dishes, moving quietly and efficiently. She was certainly not going to wash the dishes, are you? Morris one morning washed dishes was a grave misdemeanor.

"Certainly must put the food away and wash up the dishes or they will be ruined," answered Marian evasively.

"You always undertake to do a day's work after it is time to get ready to go anywhere," fretted her husband. "You clear the table, set the table, and do for once be on time."

At this time Marian had gathered the dishes and was removing the table.

"Wait," she called softly, "you come and begin washing the dishes."

"Mother while I get the baby to where is your mother?" asked Marian.

"She is putting the baby to bed," answered the sturdy little fellow, waddling round and round on a plate.

Marian, and you feeling ready?"

"The poor fellow roused the baby and he sat up a yell."

"Verily, if you want me to get ready for my sake stop calling at the feet of the statue of matrimony."

Marian marched off grumbling that he certainly would not take so much pains to go her ready on time if it was not necessary.

Phrank was being hastily slipped into their night clothes and was snoring on their prayers.

Gets His Wife to the Party Early.

Marian had combed her hair with such nervous hurry that the result was far from satisfactory, but she turned away from the mirror with a despairing gesture.

"I wonder what it would seem like to get ready to go anywhere and not be so rushed that all pleasure was taken from the outfit," she reflected.

She thought. She poured the scalding water over the dishes and was wiping them with such nervous haste that she dropped a cup on the floor and the crash brought Morris to her scene.

"What a carelessness!" When he saw Marian working at the kitchen table his irritation knew no bounds.

"I thought you were getting ready to go to the party," he said.

"I am all ready but slipping on my dress," she was the apologetic answer.

"I do believe you would wash dishes if the house was here before you could leave," he said.

"I have no time to do in the morning," she said.

"For the good and sufficient reason that we have not enough dishes to set a table for two without washing them," he said.

"She turned on him with fire in her eyes. 'I do not care enough about going anywhere to come home and wash dishes after midnight,' she said. 'I have no time to do in the morning.'"

"I can scarcely get through any way," Marian resumed her work and Morris retreated to digest his astonishment.

He began to do in the morning, he said. "I have no time to do in the morning," she said.

"I have no time to do in the morning," she said. "I have no time to do in the morning," she said.

became sour and disagreeable, instead of sweet and serene. The change was startling and saddening. She showed what havoc the habit of hate can work when indulged. Perhaps hate is too strong a word. I am sure she would not admit she hated that girl. If she admitted anything it would only be that she disliked her.

Hate is an ugly word, and one to which we do not like to plead guilty. If anyone asked you how many people you hated, you would probably say, "No one," yet there might be a great many people whom you would freely admit you disliked.

Suppose, then, we call it the "habit of dislike."

Under either name it is a terrible habit. Nothing sours the disposition more quickly than the indulgence of it. She Disliked the Girl at the Drug Store.

"I once knew a naturally sweet-tempered woman, who fell into the habit. She conceived the idea that she and she let them fill a big place in her mind and heart. Some were caused by some slight, real or fancied. Others were utterly unreasoning, and directed against people who should not have mattered a particle to her.

For instance, she got a "hate" on one of the girls at the nearest drug store, and would walk three blocks farther to do an errand to avoid meeting her.

Her life was rather empty and she let these dislikes fill a large place in it. She was always saying, 'I can bear to stand or to utter some sarcastic remark when the name of any one of her bete-noirs was mentioned. You can't think how the habit changed her, how unlovely it made her appear.'

Her Life Was Too Empty.

And then, a great trouble entered that too empty life and proved anew the old adage about clouds and lightning. She was the meanness and littleness out.

The older one grows, the less one can afford to be dominated by dislike. Youth covers a multitude of sins. Old age uncovers them.

Don't let the dislike habit get hold of you.

Drive it out when you first discover yourself indulging in it.

There are some people whom we just can't like, but we needn't dislike them. We needn't think about them. Don't give them the power over your thoughts that you give to anyone who dislikes. That is doing them too great an honor and yourself too great a harm.

Remember, "Malice drinks one-half its own poison."

Household Hints

TO MAKE CANDY OFF THE FIRE. Candies made without cooking is a feat for many. Many will welcome especially when the weather is hot. Here are some favorite "fireless" bonbons:

Lemon Creams—Grate the rind of a lemon into a bowl; add the strained juice, a pinch of tartaric acid and enough sifted confectioner's sugar to mold into small balls; then press into fat cakes.

Orange Cream Drops—Prepare in same way as above, using grated orange rind and juice instead of the lemon.

Pineapple Whip—Take a cup of grated pineapple, heat with a cup of sugar and a cup of cold water and let simmer for fifteen minutes. Soak a tablespoon of gelatin in a little cold water while the above is cooking. Mix this with the hot pineapple on taking it from the fire and cool. Then add the whites of two eggs, beaten stiff, and beat all until it begins to harden. Pour into a mold. Serve with whipped cream flavored with a little lemon.

Grape Juice Parfait—Boil one cup of sugar with one-third cup of grape juice until it thickens. Pour it slowly into the well beaten whites of two eggs. Add one-half cupful of grape juice and the strained juice of a lemon and beat till cold. Fold in two cupfuls of whipped cream and put in a mold. Let stand packed in equal measures of salt and ice for four hours.

FOR INVALIDS

Beat the yolk and white separately until extremely light. Add a pinch of salt and pour into a china cup which is afterwards placed in a saucepan of hot water. Stir constantly until scalding hot but not cooked. When this is done slowly the egg thickens slightly and puffs up until the cup is almost filled with a creamy curd. Set in the oven, for a minute, and serve at once.

DOUBLE COOKIES.

Recipe—Mix two cups granulated sugar, one cup lard, two eggs, one cup sour milk. Sift in batter three cups flour. One-half teaspoon salt and one-half teaspoon baking powder and a little nutmeg.

Put part of batter on floured board and mix in flour with hands until stiff enough to roll. Thin. Use cake turner to lift up in pans.

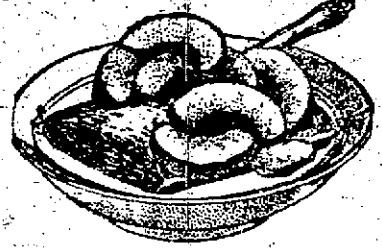

Make a cooked filling of one small cup seeded raisins, one-half teaspoon vinegar and two tablespoons sugar. Cook this in one tablespoon flour and let cool off.

Put one teaspoon of filling on each cookie, then place another cookie on top. Bake in rather quick oven. The cookies will bake together with a delicious filling in the middle.

TWO KINDS OF HERMITS.

butter, two-thirds cup sugar, two eggs, one-half cup raisins (seeded)

Time for Peaches and Cream! To get full palate-joy with maximum of nutriment for the day's work eat them on shredded wheat biscuit—a complete, perfect meal, easy to prepare, appetizing and satisfying. In Shredded Wheat all the body-building material in the whole wheat grain is retained, including the bran coat, which promotes bowel exercise.

Made at Niagara Falls, N. Y.

one-fourth teaspoon salt, two teaspoons baking powder, one cup chocolate powder, two tablespoons hot water, one teaspoon cinnamon. Cream butter, add sugar, eggs, raisins, flour in which baking powder has been sifted, chocolate melted in water, salt and cinnamon. Drop from a teaspoon onto a buttered baking sheet. Put a raisin in center of each hermit and bake in moderate oven.

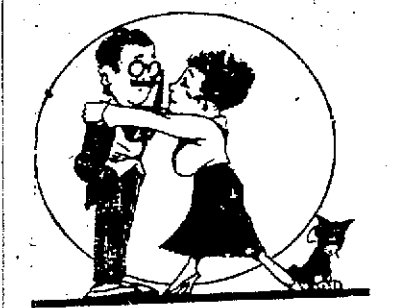

LINING FOR CARPET. Take strips of an old bed quilt have them not quite so wide as the staircase, wash and dry them. Then put smoothly over the edge and upper surface of the stairs. Tack in a few places.

This is softer than old carpet, will not wear the outer one nearly so much and is cheaper than the more expensive linings made and sold for that purpose.

TO REMOVE CORK. A cork that has been pushed into a bottle, may be removed thus: Tie several knots in one end of a string to form a large cluster and drop it into the bottle, holding on to the other end of the string. Turn the bottle over so that the cork will fall into the opening in the neck; then pull on the string, and as the latter comes out of the bottle the cluster of knots will force out the cork.

In 1920. "One of my hens laid an egg with the date 1920." "You want to encourage that breed. Those eggs can come out of cold storage and sell as extra fresh."

HE KNEW. Mrs. Short—When I kiss you, you aren't afraid I'm going to ask you for money, are you? Mr. Short—No, but I'm afraid you've already cleaned me out while I was asleep.

The New Fall Suits

Handsome Suits of fine broadcloths, wool velours, twills, winter weight serges and poplins. The jackets are made in various lengths, with the tendency toward fullness and the longer lines; the fullness, however, is distributed so evenly that it gives a smart moderate flare. Pockets and belts again appear on the fall suits, and distinctive cuffs and collars play an important part in the general effect of the new suit jackets.

In most of the suits the collars are extremely large and many are of fur and fur trimmed; cuffs are deep; the skirts are full, but not to an exaggerated extent; plaits, yokes and tailored strappings are also in evidence. The favored colors are soft shades of Burgundy, wine, rich browns, greens and navy. Prices in wide range.

SPEEDING UP METABOLISM

One-third of life is spent in bed, with the oxidation process, the metabolism, slowed down to lowest speed.

An office worker of sedentary habit and a tentative temperament was ordered by his doctor to "take two miles of oxygen three times a day on the foot."

A rather formidable prescription, but the patient has gone to the gymnasium for a week. At the end of the week he tottered up his account and found that he had covered just 100 miles.

So the poor fellow had to get up and hike to the park and back every day.

Some other genius with a scientific mind made a series of careful tests and discovered that when the lungs are swinging vigorously, as they are in a brisk walk, the metabolism may be increased more than 100 per cent.

Also that as much as 50 per cent of the energy expended in walking is required to raise the body a such step, in a man of ordinary size. Add to this a small amount of energy which is necessarily expended in lowering the body each step it has been raised, and you find that an important factor in the exercise of walking is the use of step employed, and this means that one with high heels can much sooner than one with flat shoes.

Thus is explained the lagging of the ladies when the brand after a fine takes a down like. Dawn hikes are doubly hard on the ladies because they can't expect a lady to get up in the middle of the night as is necessary for the men to be on time.

And make any sort of showing of a lot of mere fellows who will grab their clothes and run like the wind when the brand after a fine takes a down like.

Thus is explained the lagging of the ladies when the brand after a fine takes a down like.

THOSE FOOLISH HATES

One looked the other day to see a very lovely expression cross the face of a dear old friend of mine.

She was sitting opposite me, knit her brows and had her back to the door, she had seen a group of people glimp entering. Among them was a girl, whom for some reason she intensely disliked.

Hence the expression. And such an expression! Her mouth drew down at the corners, her whole face glimp entering. Among them was a girl, whom for some reason she intensely disliked.

MULLEN, YANKEE PROVES SEASON FIND AT SECOND

Used at First and in Outfield, and as a Pinch Hitter He Delivers Most Every Time.

New York, Sept. 1.—A new star has flashed among the great second basemen in the American league.

Buried among the substitutes on the bench of the New York Yankees, and used as an outfielder, a first baseman and a pinch hitter Charley Mullen a short time ago got into the game as a second baseman.

Mullen's hitting during the convalescence of a number of the New York stars was the real bright spot in the play of that club. He first jumped into prominence in a game against Detroit when he doubled with two runs on and tied the score.

Again, in New York, two runners were on the sacks with Cleveland and New York needed two runs to tie the score. Mullen was sent in to hit for the pitcher and he responded with a double against the left field wall which sent the tying runs across.

Mullen was sent to second base a few days later to replace Joe Gideon, who had been injured. The first few weeks of the season has been practically all Mullen's first day's work as a regular consisted of three hits, one of them a home run.

Mullen has been generally regarded as a fast basemen. No one knew he could play the central station until last winter when the all-stars made their trip west. He played regularly as a second base on that trip and did a fine job.

He was "discovered" by Charles Comiskey when he was playing first base on the wonderful Sox. The first time Mullen was called to play in the big league was in a game against the Yankees when he was playing first base.

The advent of Wally Pip as a major league player has been a surprise. His first big job, for Pip immediately showed such class as a batter that he was given the initial sack to guard his hitting. This has been a surprise, as Mullen's average and his blows have not been so timely. Mullen is considered a first class fielding first baseman.

At present, however, he has begun to shine and it now appears he will have the call on that station. If the Yankees succeed in winning their way back to leadership in the American league, it will be largely through his efforts. The fans in New York are proclaiming him one of the most popular players who ever wore a Yankee uniform.

REINFORCED CARDS READY FOR BELOIT; M'GUIRE CONFIDENT

Janesville Pitcher Sends Word to Wager His Salary on the Result.

Two Hot Battles Predicted.

The stage is set for the fifth and sixth games of the inter-city series between Beloit and Janesville.

Tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock Jim Scott, of American League fame, will walk into the box with the avowed intention of annexing another victory for his Beloit aggregation, at the expense of this city.

Tom McGuire, possessor of much talent, but not owner of such an enviable reputation as his opponent, will haul out the Cardinals. And just to show how much confidence the big fellow has in himself, he writes that whatever he receives for his labor can be wagered on the result. That alone should inspire confidence in his teammates and the fans who wish him well.

A wire from Chicago this morning stated that the following players would reach Janesville either this evening or tomorrow morning, Heidemann, Hornsburg, Crutsank, Nelson, Phin, Thompson, Rudolph, McGuire and Richter, which is some army.

Stock will catch McGuire and Scott will have Brenning as his battery mate. Unless all predictions go astray, it will be few and far between and runs will be almost at unknown quantity. Lineup of the two teams for the two days is as follows:

Beloit: Thomas, cf. Thompson, 3b. Rudolph, 2b. Crutsank, c. Heidemann, rf. Nelson, lb. Shook, c. McGuire, p. Richter, p. Warr, p. Riley, p.

SOX AGAIN DEFEAT LOWLY ATHLETICS, 7-1

Joe Benz and Mates Siam Joe Bush and Give Mackmen But Single Tally, Taking Last Game.

Joe Benz almost pitched his fourth shutout of the season against the Athletics in the Sox's last game at the home of the Macks. The Sox won, 7 to 1, the single tally coming in the seventh when Schang, with a three-base smash, paved the way for the single score.

Benz whitewashed the Athletics as long as it was necessary. His mates gave him a one-run margin in the first and he carried the load well while Joe Bush, of no-hit fame, went along pretty good until the sixth when they knocked him all over the lot and brought in three more runs.

Joe Jackson batted out a triple, a home run and a single and as luck happened Eddie Collins was always on the sacks ahead of the general.

Sox victory yesterday, coupled with Doston's defeat at the hands of St. Louis, places the Rowlands four and one-half games behind the leaders.

The District Attorney is the legal adviser of the county board and county officers, and represents the state in criminal cases and the county in litigation to which it is a party. I feel qualified to perform these duties because of having acted as assistant district attorney in another county by appointment, and because of thirteen years' experience in practice not only in the lower courts but also in the Supreme Court of the State in the United States Federal Courts.
I also refer you to the records of the Industrial Commission of Wisconsin for evidence of my work on behalf of injured employees.
Your support at the Primaries Tuesday will be appreciated.
